ASX RELEASE

Revolver appoints Chief Operating Officer

Revolver Resources Holdings Limited (ASX:RRR) has appointed Dr Bryce Healy to direct the company's ongoing operations at its Dianne and Osprey projects in north Queensland.

An experienced structural and economic geologist, Dr Healy's 20+ year career has spanned a number of senior mining executive positions including exploration and technical director roles for several ASX-listed mineral exploration companies.

Prior to joining Revolver, Dr Healy was Director and Principal Consultant Geologist for mineral exploration consultants Noventum Group Pty Ltd.

Dr Healy has a broad technical background across multiple commodities including precious metals, base metals and bulk commodities specialising in structural geology and geological mapping, geological modelling, geophysical interpretation, alteration and geochemistry analysis, target generation and prospectivity analysis. He also brings considerable project management experience and commercial acumen having managed multi-disciplinary teams in asset valuations and due diligence, exploration budgeting, and portfolio development.

Revolver Managing Director, Mr Pat Williams, said Dr Healy would be invaluable in driving the company's growth.

"Dr Healy is a seasoned geologist and mining executive with wide experience spanning many facets of the resources industry across Australia including the Hodgkinson and North-West Minerals provinces where our projects are located," Mr Williams said.

"His track record is perfectly-suited to helping manage the company's exciting growth trajectory. We are very pleased to welcome Bryce to the Revolver team."

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Revolver Resources Holdings Limited.

About Revolver Resources

Revolver Resources Holdings Limited is an Australian public company focused on the development of natural resources for the world's accelerating electrification. Our near-term focus is copper exploration in proven Australian jurisdictions. The company has 100% of two copper projects:

1) Dianne Project, covering six Mining Leases and an Exploration Permit in the proven polymetallic Hodkinson Province in north Queensland, and;

2) Project Osprey, covering six exploration permits within the North-West Minerals Province, one of the world's richest mineral producing regions. The principal targets are Mount Isa style copper and IOCG deposits.
